Book Title- A Hedonist in the Cellar - Adventures in Wine

Author- McNerney, Jay

What makes this book so entertaining and carefree are the short quips that are easy to digest, or for some, regurgitate. Jay speaks to everyone, but his real audience is the open-minded wine dorks, like myself. He packages his personal experiences with wine into his popular House & Garden wine column and binds them together in this book. Read one column or one chapter, if you have the self discipline, or become the hedonist yourself turning every page until you seek out his Bacchus & Me - Adventures in the Wine Cellar. I gave my first copy away knowing it would be greatly appreciated by another adventurer. Now my new copy is being used as a reference for my two new interests, Armagnac and Champagne.
